Welcome to our Nursing and Midwifery Fair

An introduction from the Careers and Employability Service

It’s great to see you at this year’s Nursing and Midwifery Careers Fair. We hope you find this a valuable opportunity to discover career possibilities and expand your network.

Just because you’re enrolled on a vocational degree course, it doesn’t mean you’re not able to access our services – we’re here for you too!

You can book an appointment to discuss anything to do with your career – whether you need a second opinion on your CV, want to brush up on interview skills, or are feeling unsure about your career path.

Find out how to book at nottingham.ac.uk/careers/appointments

We also provide tailored advice to help you when applying for jobs. Check out our advice on:

- application forms – nottingham.ac.uk/careers/nursemidwifeapplications
- interviews – nottingham.ac.uk/careers/nursemidwifeinterviews

If you’re considering further study instead of going straight into employment, have a look at nottingham.ac.uk/careers/furtherstudy

If you need anything else during your course or even after graduating, get in touch.

Your Careers Team

An introduction from the School of Health Sciences

The University of Nottingham is a pioneer in nursing education and midwifery. As one of the largest nursing and midwifery schools in the UK, we offer innovative courses informed by powerful research and delivered by high-quality teachers in an inspiring environment.

As a graduate of the University, there has never been a more exciting time to be in nursing and midwifery. If you know which career path you wish to take, please make the most of this fair by speaking to key employers and attending the relevant talks.

If you are undecided about how you would like to use your degree, please take this opportunity to find out about different career paths and the further training in speciality areas.

We are delighted to welcome around 40 employers – more than ever before – and would like to take this opportunity to thank all those exhibiting and delivering presentations.

I hope this will be a successful and useful event for you and help to springboard you into an exciting career in the nursing and midwifery professions.

Professor Jo Lymn
Head of the School of Health Sciences

Nursing in the Royal Navy
The Royal Navy is only as good as its people, and Naval Nurses are an essential part of this. Whether you’re at the scene of a natural disaster providing essential primary care, or tending to fellow crew members during peacetime, this is a career with a difference. Come to learn more about what's on offer, including unparalleled further study and travel opportunities.

Specialist Community Public Health Nursing
Have you thought about a career in the field of public health nursing? If you're considering it (or even if you haven't), attend this session to find out about rewarding career options in health visiting and school nursing.

Mercy Ships: Volunteers Bringing Hope and Healing in Africa
Mercy Ships operates the world's largest civilian hospital ship, bringing free, life-changing surgical care to some of the world's poorest people. The M/V Africa Mercy is currently docked in Cameroon, performing surgeries on cases rarely seen in the West. Mercy Ships also builds a host country’s capacity to deliver its own healthcare, to leave a sustainable impact. Find out how to get involved.

Liaison Psychiatry: Mental Healthcare in a Physical Healthcare Setting
Patients with psychological healthcare needs in addition to physical ones often experience slower diagnosis, longer hospital stays and poorer outcomes. With growing recognition that mental health difficulties should be treated with the same urgency as physical ones, there is a greater need for people who are trained and confident in identifying and dealing with these issues across all practice areas. This session will help you understand career opportunities in this area.

Career Talks Programme

It's never too early to kick-start your career planning, and our programme of talks will help you do just that. Join experts from across practice areas to get insights into career paths that you're interested in – and maybe those you haven't even considered yet.

Room 2
2.15pm
Neonates: Tiny Patients, Big Rewards
Ever considered becoming a neonatal nurse? Maybe you haven't thought about it, or are unsure whether it's for you. Whatever stage you're at, come to get information about potential career pathways, learn about the benefits on offer and understand what it's like to be part of a 'neonatal network'. You'll also get an insight into options for continuing learning and development throughout your career.

2.45pm
Opportunities in Post-Registration Education and Career Development
The Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) requires all registered nurses to engage in continuing professional development activities. This session will provide ideas about how to achieve this through short courses, standalone modules and specialist pathways, including opportunities to complete BSc and MSc awards.

Room 3
2.15pm
Nursing in the Royal Navy

Become a Nurse in Queen Alexandra’s Royal Army Nursing Corps and you could make a crucial difference to the lives of soldiers and civilians at home and abroad. You’ll take in experiences and challenges that you’d never encounter in a civilian career, and enjoy everything that Army life has to offer.
You could find yourself treating battlefield casualties on operations or as part of a team responding to a humanitarian crisis overseas. Whether you work full-time or part-time you’ll be able to broaden your base of professional knowledge in a way that could substantially benefit your career.

Organisation type: NHS Trust
Fields recruiting to: Learning disability nursing and mental health nursing
Application advice:
To apply for roles with AWP, visit our website and apply online. Alternatively you can email your CV and a covering letter detailing the area of the Trust you would like to work in, and the specialism you are interested in, to claire.young9@nhs.net (Resourcing Lead) and we will try to source a role for you.

Avon and Wiltshire Mental Health Partnership NHS Trust (AWP) is a significant provider of high-quality mental health services across a core catchment area covering Bath and North East Somerset (B&NES), Bristol, North Somerset, South Gloucestershire, Swindon and Wiltshire. The Trust also provides specialist services for a wider catchment extending throughout the South West.
We are looking to appoint mental health nurses to a range of roles across the Trust’s region including Wiltshire, North Somerset, Swindon and Bristol in a variety of specialisms.
In return we can offer a strong preceptorship package in inpatients or community, plus training and support.

Great Ormond Street Hospital for Children
NHS Foundation Trust

Organisation type: NHS Trust
Fields recruiting to: Child nursing
Application advice: Applications for newly qualified nursing positions will be open a number of times throughout the year. For more details visit our website.

An application form needs to be completed on NHS Jobs, including a personal statement giving candidates the chance to tell us why they want to work at GOSH and demonstrate how they meet our Trust values. This will be followed by a shortlisting stage, and an invitation to one of our recruitment days.

Great Ormond Street Hospital was founded in 1852 by Dr Charles West, a driven and pioneering physician who believed passionately that the interests of children's healthcare would be best served by the establishment of a hospital dedicated exclusively to the care of the children.

We are a tertiary service within the NHS. Most of the children we care for are referred to us from other hospitals throughout the UK because of the highly complex or rare nature of the child's condition. The hospital has the largest range of children's specialties in one institution in the UK.

Health Education England

Organisation type: Department of Health public body
Fields recruiting to: Adult nursing, child nursing, learning disability nursing, mental health nursing and midwifery
Application advice: The NHS Health Careers website and NHS Jobs website are good places to start when searching for nursing and midwifery jobs in the East Midlands and further afield.

Health Education England (HEE) exists for one reason only: to support the delivery of excellent healthcare and health improvement to the patients and public of England. We ensure that the workforce of today and tomorrow has the right numbers, skills, values and behaviours, at the right time and in the right place.

Working across the East Midlands, we aim to provide high-quality education and training to all health professionals including the next generation of doctors, dentists and nurses across the area. To do this effectively and to ensure the best possible outcomes and experience for patients and people, we work closely with local healthcare providers and key stakeholders so that our work is driven by patient needs.

Mercy Ships requires all medical professionals to have at least two year’s professional experience in their field.

All positions are volunteer positions, to serve the forgotten poor in some of the world’s poorest nations.

We are a team of nurses, doctors, surgeons, and other crew members from all over the world, donating our time to help on board the world’s largest non-governmental floating hospital.

As a floating hospital, we can sail directly to some of the world’s poorest people to deliver life-saving medical care and provide safe, state-of-the-art facilities in which to treat them.

Together, we have helped transform the lives of more than 2.5 million people in the poorest countries of the world since 1978.

Organisation type: General practice – primary care

Fields recruiting to: Adult nursing

Application advice:
We offer the following opportunities:

- General Practice Nurse Degree (for new practice nurses) – DeMontfort University
- General Practice Nurse Fellowship – Health Education England (for newly qualified nurses interested in general practice)
- After qualifying and advancing practice
- Prescribing
- Advanced Nurse Practitioner

General practice nurses (GPN) are valuable members of primary care teams that might include healthcare assistants, GPNs, and advanced nurse practitioners.

GPNs have become clinical leaders, managing caseloads with increasingly complex multimorbidity, including extended autonomous roles. They offer first contact and continuing care, long-term conditions, treating acute illness and supporting vulnerable groups like children, the elderly, mental health, learning disabilities and dementia.

They are the ambassadors of health promotion and supporting patients in self-management.

The healthcare support workforce is recognised for their growing contribution in general practice by supporting GPNs and taking on broader clinical roles.
