The Indian Society for Veterinary Immunology & Biotechnology - ISVIB in collaboration with Tamil Nadu Veterinary and Animal Sciences University, Chennai is organizing XXI Annual Convention & International Symposium on “Livestock Diseases Affecting Livelihood Options and Global Trade – Strategies and Solutions” at the Department of Animal Biotechnology, Madras Veterinary College, Chennai from July 17–19, 2014. The convention will give a unique opportunity to the academicians, scientists and students pursuing research on diverse aspects of Veterinary Immunology and Biotechnology by taking part and sharing their research findings with the assemblage of professionals and experts.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY

Started in 1903, it was the fourth Veterinary Institution to be started in India and the first Veterinary College to get itself affiliated to a University. The relentless service by this institute to the society was duly recognized and a separate University – Tamil Nadu Veterinary and Animal Sciences University was formed for the first time in South Asia in 1989 of which Madras Veterinary College forms an integral part. The mandate of the college embraces education, research and extension in the areas of Veterinary and Animal Sciences.

The Department of Animal Biotechnology was started at Madras Veterinary College in 1989 and has 'state-of-the-art' facilities to carry out research in various facets of Animal Biotechnology. 15 externally funded projects are in operation in the department.

In commemoration of “SILVER JUBILEE YEAR” celebrations of the University and Department of Animal Biotechnology, we are organizing the XXI Annual Convention of Indian Society for Veterinary Immunology & Biotechnology and International Symposium on “Livestock Diseases Affecting Livelihood Options and Global Trade – Strategies and Solutions”. We invite the teachers, researchers and students to make use of this opportunity to have fruitful interaction with scientists and experts from academia and industry.

TANUVAS has active collaborations with several overseas universities and the most prominent among them are Virginia Tech University, Blacksburg, USA, Michigan State University, East Lansing, USA and University of Nottingham, England. TANUVAS is engaged in collaborative research programmes with the above Universities and expects very good representations from these universities for the convention and symposium.
