

Burgage Green Southwell

Our project is to archaeologically explore and tell the story of a mysterious piece of open grassed land in the heart of our town. The 'lumps and bumps' are shown on an old map as Earthworks and we are excited that our unique investigations, with guidance from community and Nottingham Universities archaeologists, may uncover evidence of people who lived here from possibly thousands of years ago.

Turf replaced - a ritual dance?

More sitting!

A beautiful wall

All done!

Planning or praying?
