Critical conversations on refugee education in Europe: perspectives from research, practice, and policy

UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM, NOTTINGHAM, UK • JUBILEE CONFERENCE CENTRE, JUBILEE CAMPUS, UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM, NOTTINGHAM, UK

22 - 23
NOV
2022

In 2022, UNHCR announced that over 100 million individuals worldwide have been forcibly displaced as a result of persecution, conflict, violence, human rights violations or events seriously disturbing public order. Europe alone hosts over 7 million refugees who were forcibly displaced, including asylum-seekers, stateless persons, internally displaced persons and unaccompanied minors.

Despite it being more than seven decades since the enshrinement of refugee rights through the 1951 UN Refugee Convention, many refugees continue to face challenges when it comes to accessing educational systems or pursuing their educational goals in Europe. These challenges became especially prominent in 2015 when Europe saw 1.3 million individuals, including children, requesting asylum in that year alone.

As such, critical conversations on refugee education need to expand from ensuring basic access to education to building sustainable educational pathways and trajectories for refugees. This conference is a Europe-wide gathering of researchers, policymakers and practitioners involved in refugee education and committed to building sustainable educational pathways and trajectories for refugees and displaced peoples in Europe.

There will be a packed programme of presentations relating to the educational challenges faced by refugees and some of the ways in which they are being addressed across Europe. It includes contributions from academics, practitioners, policy influencers and individuals with lived experience of forced migration. The conference has been designed to incorporate various opportunities to engage with other attendees around emerging issues.

So, if you want to become part of this critical conversation and network with others from across Europe who are working in the field of refugee education, please register using the links provided.
