

Poverty Alleviation in the Wake of Typhoon Yolanda

Workshop

30 September 2015

9.00 am – 5.00 pm

Balay Kalinaw

University of the Philippines, Diliman Campus

Arrival 9.00 am – 9.30 pm

9.30am

Welcome address from (Alfredo Pascual) President, University of the Philippines

Opening remarks (Nigel Boud) Deputy UK Ambassador to the Philippines

Outline of aims and objectives of the workshop (Pauline Eadie) University of Nottingham, UK, Project Primary -Investigator)

Panel I: Poverty Alleviation in the Wake of Natural Disasters

(Chair Pauline Eadie)

10.00 am – 11.15 am

Panel Members:

Dr. Perlita Frago-Marasigan

(Dept. of Political Science, University of the Philippines-Diliman)

Lt. Col. Mario Limpin (Philippines Marines, Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP)

Prof. Ladylyn Brazas Lim (University of the Philippines, Tacloban)

Prof. Corazon Jimenez-Tan (College of Social Work and Community Development, University of the Philippines, Diliman)

Suggested Questions for Consideration:

What is the relationship between natural disasters and ‘well-being’? How does this evolve over time?

To what extent is gender been effectively integrated into disaster relief programmes?

To what extent has disaster relief been effectively co-ordinated between agencies? How can we measure this?

How do natural disasters impact upon human ‘dignity’ how can we understand and address this?

To what extent has shelter provision been accountable?

Keywords: Urban, rural, gender, education, agency, dignity, resilience, housing

Coffee break

11.15 am – 11.45 am

Panel II: Livelihood and Community

(Chair May Tan-Mullins, Project Co-Investigator)

11.45 am – 1.15 pm

Panel Members:

Mr. Oliver Cam (Business Recovery Centre/Philippine Chamber of Commerce Eastern Visayas)

Dr. Maria Lourdes G. Rebullida
(Dept. of Political Science, University of the Philippines-Diliman)

Ms. Sum Sreymom (Cambodia Development Research Institute)

Suggested Questions for Consideration:

How and why do natural disasters alter livelihood strategies?

To what extent do natural disasters impact on different genders in different ways?

What has been the impact of the no build zone on community cohesion? To what extent is this relevant in relation to livelihoods?

To what extent can the re-building of domestic dwellings be considered a success since Yolanda?

Keywords: farming, fishing, gender, housing, no build zone, schools

Lunch

1.15 pm – 2.15 pm

Panel III: Governance and Resilience

(Chair Maria Ela Atienza, University of the Philippines, Project Co-investigator)

2.15 p m – 3.45 pm

Panel Members:

Dr Khin Maung Win (Community Development Association, Myanmar)

Dr. Albert Salamanca (Stockholm Environment Institute)

Mr. Red Constantino (Institute for Climate and Sustainable Cities)

Suggested Questions for Consideration

To what extent is the monitoring of resilience accurate?

When monitoring resilience what time scales do we need to consider?

How does resilience change over time?

What role has the private sector played?

To what extent is the notion of building back credible?

Keywords: ‘levels’ of governance (local, national, international), resilience, private sector, agency, build back better

3.45pm – 4.00pm Coffee and Merienda Break

Round Table and Concluding Remarks

(Chair: Dr Pauline Eadie) - 4.00pm – 5.00pm