

University of Nottingham

UK | CHINA | MALAYSIA

Cultural and Intellectual Histories of Japanese-occupied China

A one day international workshop held under the ERC-funded Cultures of Occupation in Twentieth Century Asia (COTCA) Project.

Organised by Dr Jeremy E. Taylor (University of Nottingham) and Prof Zhiyi Yang (Goethe University Frankfurt).

Monday, 16 September 2019 - 9am-6pm

Asia House, 63 New Cavendish Street, London, W1G 7LP

This workshop will encourage a dialogue about cultural and intellectual developments in China during the Japanese occupation. It will bring together 12 scholars from Europe, Asia and North America who will present papers on literature, art, music, print culture, photography and intellectual debates in Japanese-occupied China (1937-1945).

Papers will be presented in English and/or Chinese.

Please register for a place at the workshop here:
www.nottingham.ac.uk/go/cotca-workshop

Enquiries: jeremy.taylor@nottingham.ac.uk

