come. Welcome. Welco

On behalf of everyone at the University of Nottingham, I am delighted to welcome you to your graduation ceremony today.

This is a formal celebration of your hard work and achievements, and it is also recognition of the journey that you have each been on to reach this point.

Graduation is also an opportunity to recognise the friends, family and wider community who have supported you during your studies.

I would like to congratulate you on your achievements and encourage you to reflect on your time at Nottingham today. This may be the conclusion of this stage of your journey, but it is also the very start of a new chapter for you.

You will join our esteemed community of University of Nottingham alumni, a global network of 340,000 graduates. As alumni, you will always be valued members of our community.

I hope you have a wonderful day today and I wish you every success on a bright and successful future.

Academic dress: A brief history

Academic dress has a rich history, evolving from its practical origins to becoming a symbol of achievement and distinction. In the past, hoods were used to cover the head and varied in lining materials based on the season.

Today, the colours and styles of hoods and gowns serve as a visual representation of different levels and subject areas of awards. The colours and styles vary depending on the institution. Since its establishment in 1948, Nottingham has used light blue as its degree colour.

Academic dress

Gowns

Gowns for first and masters degrees are black.

Gowns for doctors are claret, faced to a depth of 3" with light blue silk.

Gowns for higher doctors are scarlet, faced to a depth of 3" with light blue silk.

Hoods

Those receiving a certificate wear a hood in the Belfast shape.

Those receiving a diploma wear a hood in the Edinburgh shape.

Those receiving a degree at all levels wear a hood in the Cambridge shape.

All graduate hoods are bound at the edge with a ribbon of the colour appropriate to the nominal faculty.

For higher first and higher masters degrees, the entire hood – including the cape – is bound with ribbon.

NOTTINGHAM
AWARDS

Sarah Hayford
International Relations and Global Issues, 2018

Sarah Hayford is the Founder and CEO of The Land Collective, a social mobility organisation founded when she was a student at the University of Nottingham.

The organisation supports young people from underrepresented backgrounds into careers in real estate and the built environment sector by providing employability programmes, career opportunities and educational resources.

The Land Collective was listed as one of the Top 100 Social Enterprises in the UK in 2023. Sarah began her career in commercial real estate shortly after graduating and specialised in retail.

Vincent Egunlae Politics and International Relations, 2016

Vincent is a multi-award-winning investment banker, currently working at Houlihan Lokey and previously at Grant Thornton UK LLP, where after incepting his firm's largest diversity and inclusion network, he joined its 'C-suite' for one and a half years. Vincent has since become an accomplished public speaker on creating equity, receiving over 1.3m views as part of One Young World, the pre-eminent global programme for future leaders.

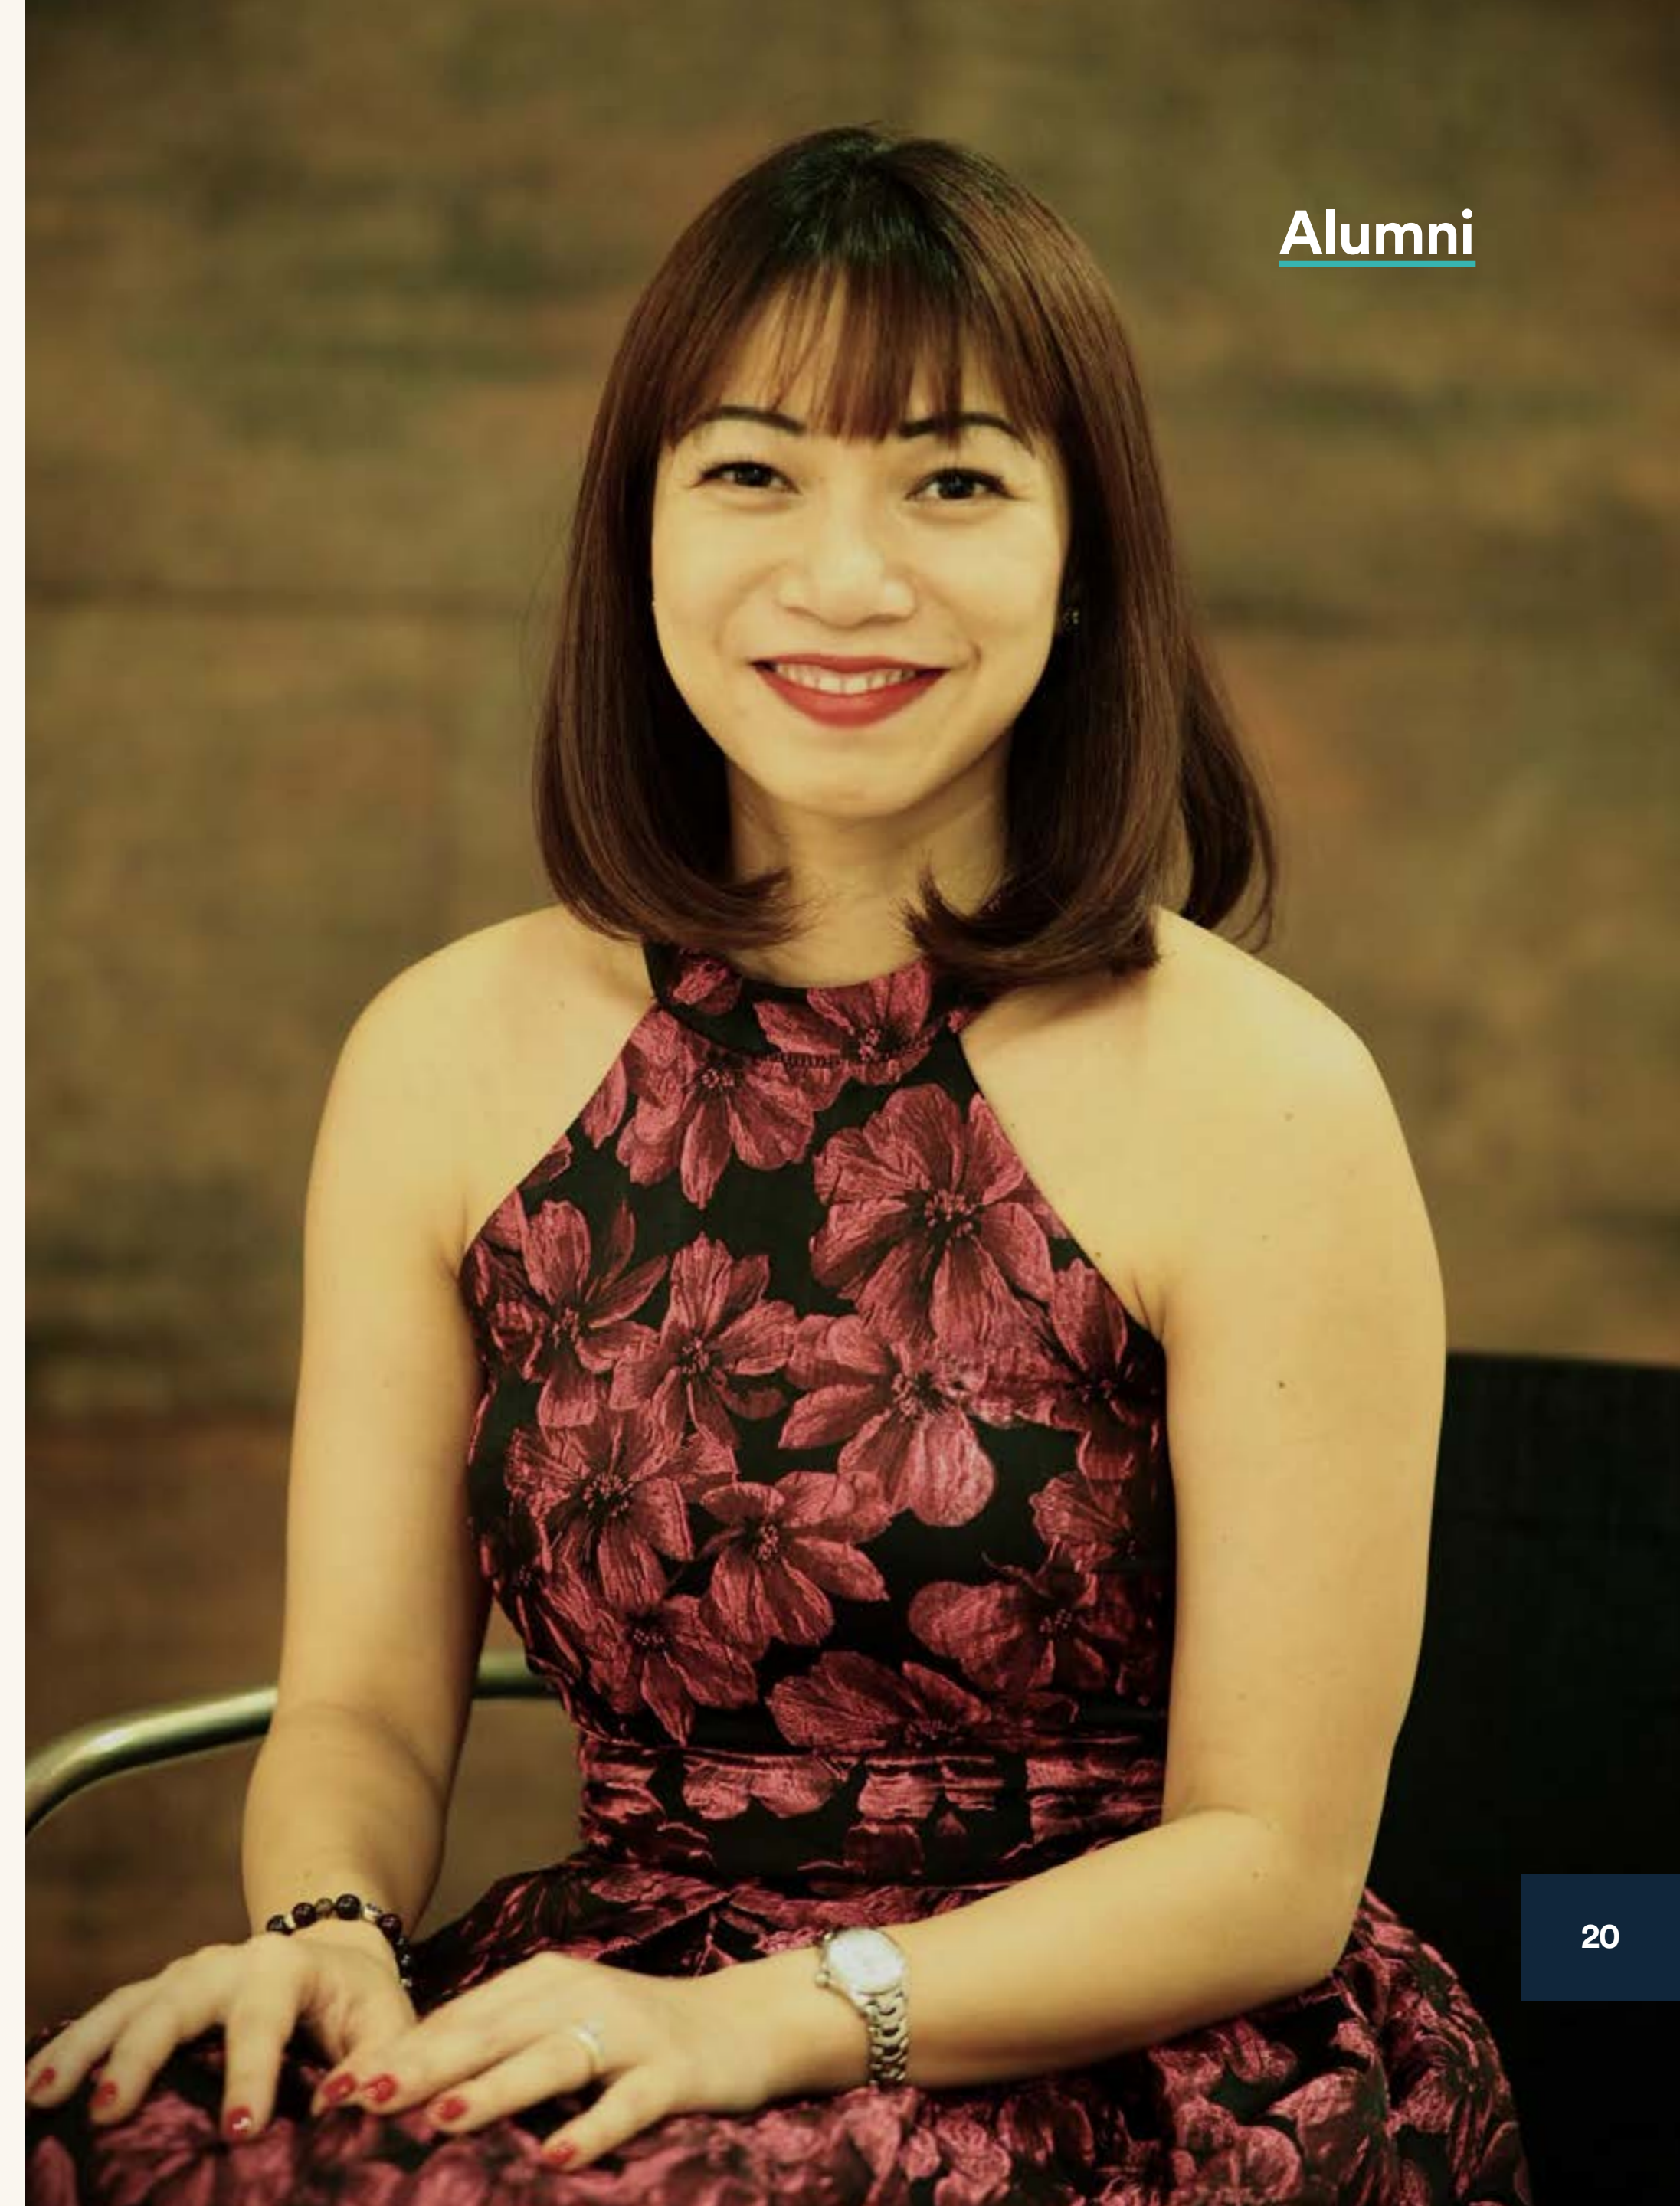

Vincent also co-founded The Open Private School, a charity which seeks to provide state school educated students with opportunity, directly impacting over 150 students in three years. These immense community contributions saw Vincent named the UK's 'Best Young Professional' by the Black British Business Awards (2022), receiving acknowledgement from the Prime Minister.

Trang Chu Minh International Relations and Global Issues, 2011

Trang has devoted her career to leveraging storytelling to drive positive change in underreported social and environmental issues. She has worked on a multitude of high-impact campaigns, from advocating for the first state law banning child marriage in the US, to facilitating the opening of the UK's first safe house for LGBTQ+ refugees, and campaigning for Indonesia's first provincial ban against plastic bags.

She is currently in charge of sustainability communications and thought leadership for Singapore's sovereign wealth fund, in addition to serving as a running guide for people with disabilities and volunteering for projects promoting wildlife conservation and disability inclusion. Her contributions earned her the One Young World Campaigner of the Year Award in 2023.

Elizabeth Hall MBE Psychology, 1990

Elizabeth Hall (née Clark) MBE graduated with BA in psychology in 1990. Her career began in the press office of Action Aid before joining PR company Freud Communications. Fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) agency marketing roles followed before becoming Marketing Director of The Carbon Neutral Company and teaching yoga at Holloway Prison.

In 2018, driven by the belief that no one should be held back from participating in society because they cannot afford to wash their hair, clothes, brush their teeth, use period products or change their baby's nappy as needed, Elizabeth set up The Hygiene Bank. With nearly 600 volunteers and 200 local projects across the UK, 1,539,182 kg of basic hygiene products were distributed in 2023 to over 1,000 community partners, including schools, food banks, women's refuges and homeless shelters.

Lauren James Natural Sciences, 2014

Lauren James is the Carnegie-longlisted British author of many young adult novels, including Green Rising, The Reckless Afterlife of Harriet Stoker and The Loneliest Girl in the Universe. She is a Royal Literacy Fund (RLF) Fellow at Aston University and the story consultant on Netflix's Heartstopper (seasons two and three).

Lauren is the founder of the Climate Fiction Writers League, editor of the anthology Future Hopes: Hopeful stories in a time of climate change, and a member of the Society of Authors' Sustainability Committee. She works as a consultant on climate storytelling for museums, production companies, major brands and publishers, with a focus on optimism and hope. She runs a Queer Writers group in Coventry.

Notable speakers

Sultan Raja Chaudhury (Genetics, 2024)

Sultan Raja Chaudhury (Sully) is a PhD student in the School of Life Sciences, where his research focused on investigating polygenic risk scores in Alzheimer's disease. As a student, he'd been involved in the university's A Cappella Society for a number of years, including two as President, receiving a number of awards during this time including Best Student Group 2020/21. Sully took sabbatical leave from his studies to stand as the Liberation Officer of the Students' Union in 2021/22 and then Union Development Officer in 2022/23. There, his contributions have reimagined the relationship between the Union and the university, the local area and the higher education sector through his advocacy and authentic leadership. Since then, he has worked part-time for the university as the Universities for Nottingham Project Manager (EDI), piloting new ways of working between key institutions within Nottinghamshire and developing their ambitions to improve diversity, recruitment and retention of their workforces.

Dr Paulomi Sengupta (Medicine, 2023)

Paulomi is a junior doctor based in Manchester. Passionate about global health, she has served as the national Global Health Education Director for Students for Global Health, and conducted research at the Great Ormond Street Institute of Child Health, studying the impact of a digital health intervention on reducing neonatal morbidity and mortality in low-resource settings.

Paulomi graduated from the University of Nottingham as the first prize recipient of the esteemed Elizabeth and J.D. Marsden Prize, awarded to students who have gained high distinction in their exams, and shown outstanding character in both academic and extracurricular settings.

Dr Calum Heslop (Medicine, 2023)

Calum is an Honorary Clinical Fellow at the University of Liverpool and a Specialised Foundation Doctor at The Royal Liverpool University Hospital.

His current research interests are within fields including robotic surgery and Medical Education, with a focus on technology-enhanced learning. He graduated from Nottingham as a winner of the MARS Leadership Prize and Elizabeth and JD Marsden Prize, in addition to having a role co-ordinating the University of Nottingham Co-Responders.

Fleur de Sarandy (Chemical Engineering with an Industrial Placement Year, 5th year)

Fleur's year in industry was at a consultancy in the food and beverage sector as a Process Engineer, where she gained copious amounts of knowledge, on a wide variety of products. She found the most fulfilment in projects that primarily focused on enhancing sustainability and reducing environmental impact.

During her time at university, she was voted social secretary for the Chemical and Environmental Society, organising events for students across all years to enjoy. Her unique journey at the University of Nottingham has fostered significant personal growth that she hopes can inspire other engineers in their future endeavours.

Notable speakers

Elizabeth Adeniyi (Mechanical Engineering, 2022)

Elizabeth is a 2022 graduate from the university and holds an MEng degree in Mechanical Engineering. Since leaving university, she has gone on to pursue a career in construction working as an Assistant MEP Manager.

A passionate advocate for the field, Elizabeth actively volunteers as an alumni and founded “she can engineering”, an initiative focused on inspiring and educating others about the diverse opportunities within engineering. Committed to fostering inclusivity, she strives to empower women and encourage them to pursue their passions in this dynamic field.

Annabel Mair (Management with Placement, 2023)

Annabel is a first-class management with placement graduate, who now excels as a Customer Success Account Manager at Microsoft, specialising in the defence sector.

During her time at university, Annabel demonstrated exceptional leadership. As the driving force behind the University Enactus Team, she led them to the prestigious Enactus World Cup, where they competed against world-leading innovative projects. Nottingham's team showcased their ingenuity and determination, securing a remarkable top-four placement globally.

Emily Oxbury
(History and Politics, 2022; History MA, 2023)

Graduating with an MA in History last year, Emily had a particular passion for British cultural history. She was greatly involved in University Radio Nottingham during her university years, which led her to work on projects with TBI Media and BBC Radio.

Emily was also responsible for organising a number of networking sessions for students interested in the media industry. She now works as an Events and Promotions assistant at Newsquest Media Group and as a Production Assistant at Future Radio in Norwich.

Most recently Emily has begun working with Norfolk Museums Service, and sits on their Youth Board, helping to shape the future of Norfolk's museums and heritage services.

Calvin Medcalf (American Studies and History, 2022)

Having graduated in 2022 with a First in American Studies and History, Calvin now works as a policy specialist within the International Group at His Majesty's Treasury, exploring cross-reaching solutions to a number of critical geopolitical economic events.

During his degree, Calvin focused specifically on immigration into the United States, with his dissertation "Un-Neutral' Neutrality and 'Un-Patriotic Patriots", centred principally around the ethno-political and religious issues which affected German-Americans in the early 20th century.

Studying during Covid-19, Calvin also participated in a number of societies, and aided in the creation of Communi-Tea, which aimed to help second and third year students make new friends during the pandemic.

Abiodun Michael Olatokun (Law, 2014)

Abiodun is a human rights barrister helping the most vulnerable people through their interactions with the state. He supports refugees in gaining protection from political, religious and ethnic persecution. He also works with children and young people to ensure that they have the right support for their disabilities at school.

Abiodun is a university lecturer and is the creator of a course, Citizenship and the Rule of Law, which has provided human rights education to over 20,000 people from every country in the world.

Abiodun is an Honorary Life Member of the University of Nottingham Students' Union and our 2021 Alumni Volunteer of the Year.

Eloise Stone (Pharmaceutical Sciences, 2022)

Eloise is a scientist at AstraZeneca, currently on the Pharmaceutical and Technology Development graduate scheme, rotating around the business in different departments, with a strong focus on sustainability and lead-time reduction of medicines.

While studying at Nottingham, she was President of PharmSoc and actively involved in many extra-curricular activities such as the Nottingham Advantage Award, course representative and Welcome Week.

She undertook her year in industry at Quotient Sciences as a formulation scientist, and her dissertation project with Dr Frankie Rawson focused on functionalising cytochrome-c for redox induced apoptosis has since been published in nano-nature.
